

WORKSHOPS FOR PHD CANDIDATES AND POST-DOC

with Jonathan Silver, Elia Apostolopoulou, Andrea Pollio, Simone Vegliò and Han Cheng

Between the 12th and 14th of June, in Turin, the seminar “Global infrastructures and urbanization: an exchange” will take place. This is organised by the PRIN “Rescaling the Belt and Road Initiative”. As a collateral activity to the seminar, a set of training sessions has been organized for PhD candidates and post-docs.

Specifically, on the 14th of June from 2:30 PM to 4 PM in Sala Vigliano, there will be three “Training sessions”, open to PhD students of our programmes and Postdoc fellows – Co-organised with the PhD programme in Urban and Regional Development (URD).

For further information:
alberto.valzgris@polito.it

Organised by

PRIN “Rescaling the Belt and Road Initiative” and PhD programme in Urban and Regional Development (URD), Politecnico di Torino

Where

Sala Vigliano,
Manica Chevalley,
Castello del Valentino,
Viale Mattioli 39, Torino

When

14/06 _ 2:30 - 4 p.m.

Workshop 1

How to write a book proposal with Jon Silver

Workshop 2

How to write a research proposal with Andrea Pollio and Simone Vegliò

Workshop 3

How to write an academic paper for an international Urban Studies journal with Elia Apostolopoulou (and Han Cheng)

The three workshops will take place simultaneously, so it will not be possible to attend more than one. For organizational purposes, we kindly ask you to register for the workshops in advance. The deadline is on the 6th of June. Only workshops with at least 3 participants will be activated.